

NORTH AND WEST WALES MARINE CODE IN GWYNEDD

STAY AT LEAST
100 METRES AWAY

Look out for wildlife

Marine mammals and birds at sea and seals and seabirds on the shore/cliffs. If you stop to watch, enjoy their company for a maximum of 10 minutes.

Keep your distance

At least 100 metres away from the seabird colonies, rafting seabirds and marine mammals. Do not enter sea caves, or areas where seals or seabirds are present.

Reduce speed & sound

Within 300 metres proceed at 'no wake' speed and at no more than 5 knots.

Be aware

If an animal's behaviour changes in response to your presence, move away quietly.

To report disturbance contact North Wales Police on 101

The Marine Code applies to all water users. 100 metres is approx the length of a football pitch.

Gwynedd Harbourmasters and Launch Control Officers are authorised to withdraw launching and/or mooring permits from vessels and individuals not observing the Marine Code.
